

Appendix One: Two examples of programme conditions in place for current ESOs

Example one of a weekly programme for a person on an ESO ^{9(2)(a)} [redacted] and subject to a programme condition. Please note that this schedule contains a combination of monitored and mandatory programme activities and the offenders general schedule for the week. These weekly schedules are put together by the offender and a staff member to support structure and successful reintegration.

The Programme condition, a special Condition of the ESO imposed by the Parole board, states that the individual is:

“To undertake, engage in and complete a reintegration programme administered by a programme provider for up to nine hours daily, between the hours of 8 am and 8 pm daily, as approved by a probation officer and abide by the rules of the programme to the satisfaction of the Probation Officer.”

“To allow an approved person to facilitate and assist you as necessary to ensure your attendance at classes or participating in other activities associated with the programme.”

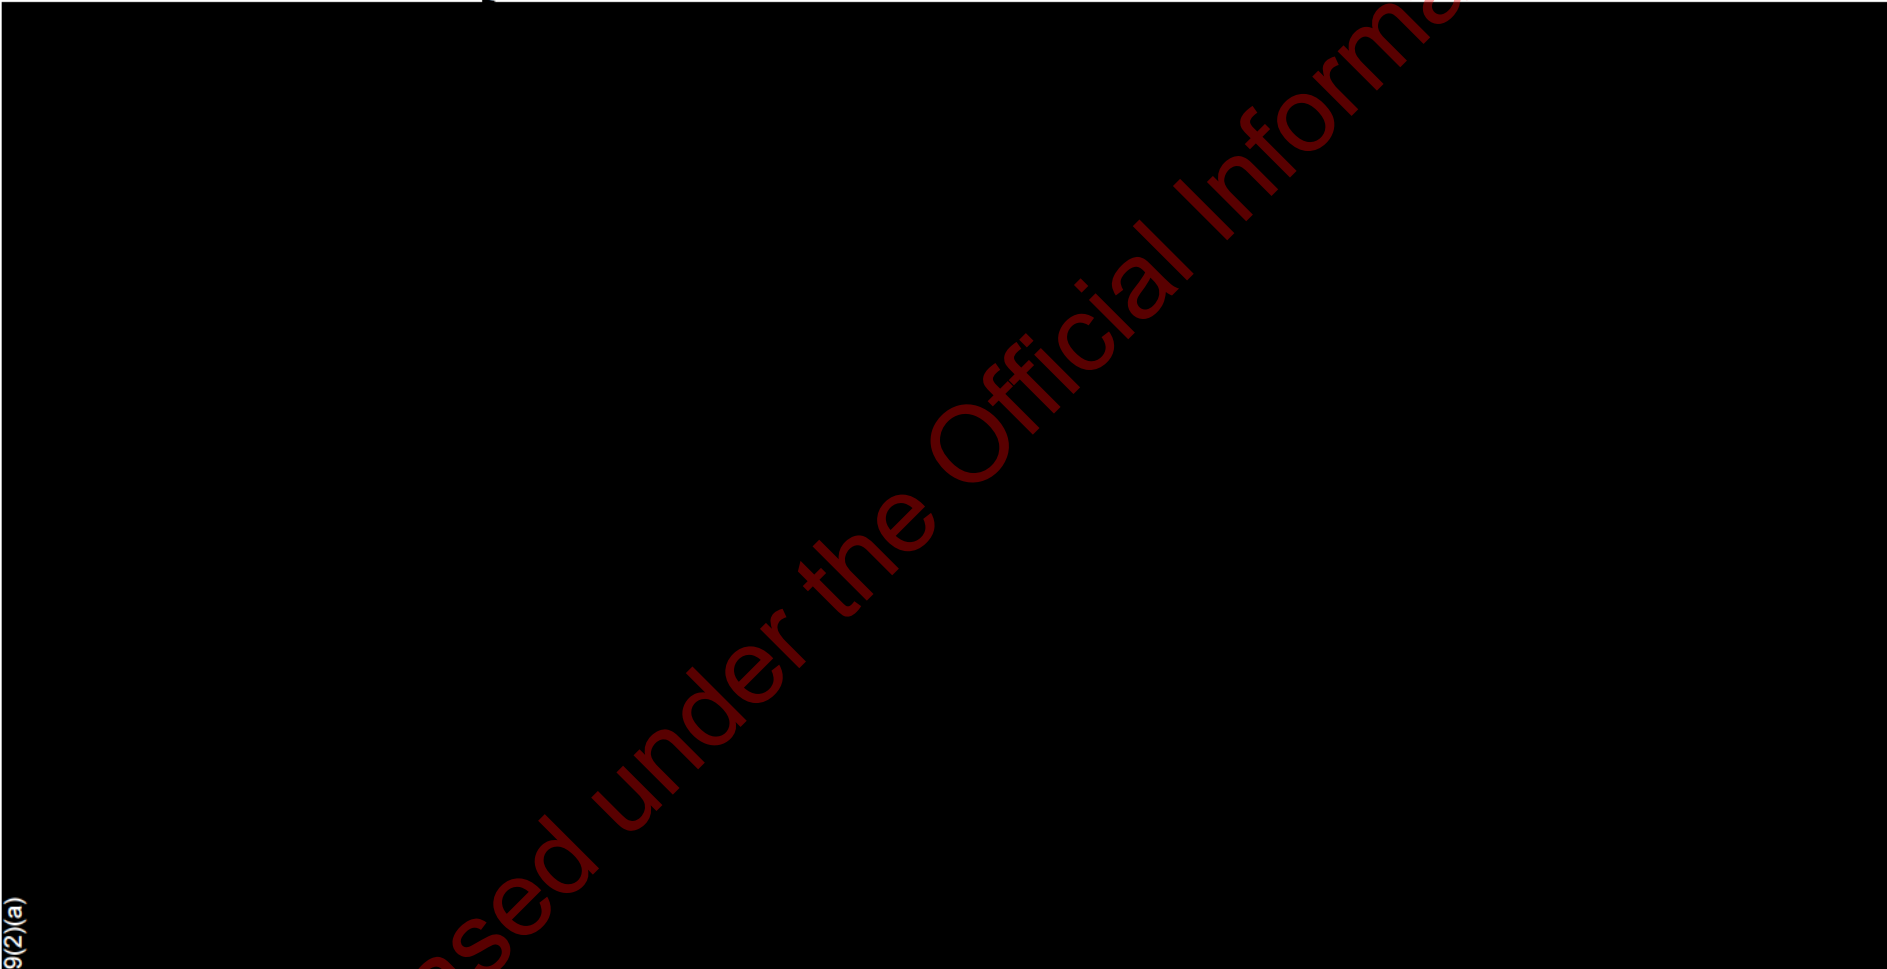

9(2)(a)

IN CONFIDENCE

Example two of a weekly 10 hour programme for someone on an ESO who is staying at [REDACTED] and is subject to a programme condition. Please note that this schedule contains a combination of monitored and mandatory programme activities and the offenders general schedule for the week. For example, the probation home visit is mandatory under another condition rather than being a programme requirement. These weekly schedules are put together by the offender and a staff member to support structure and successful reintegration.

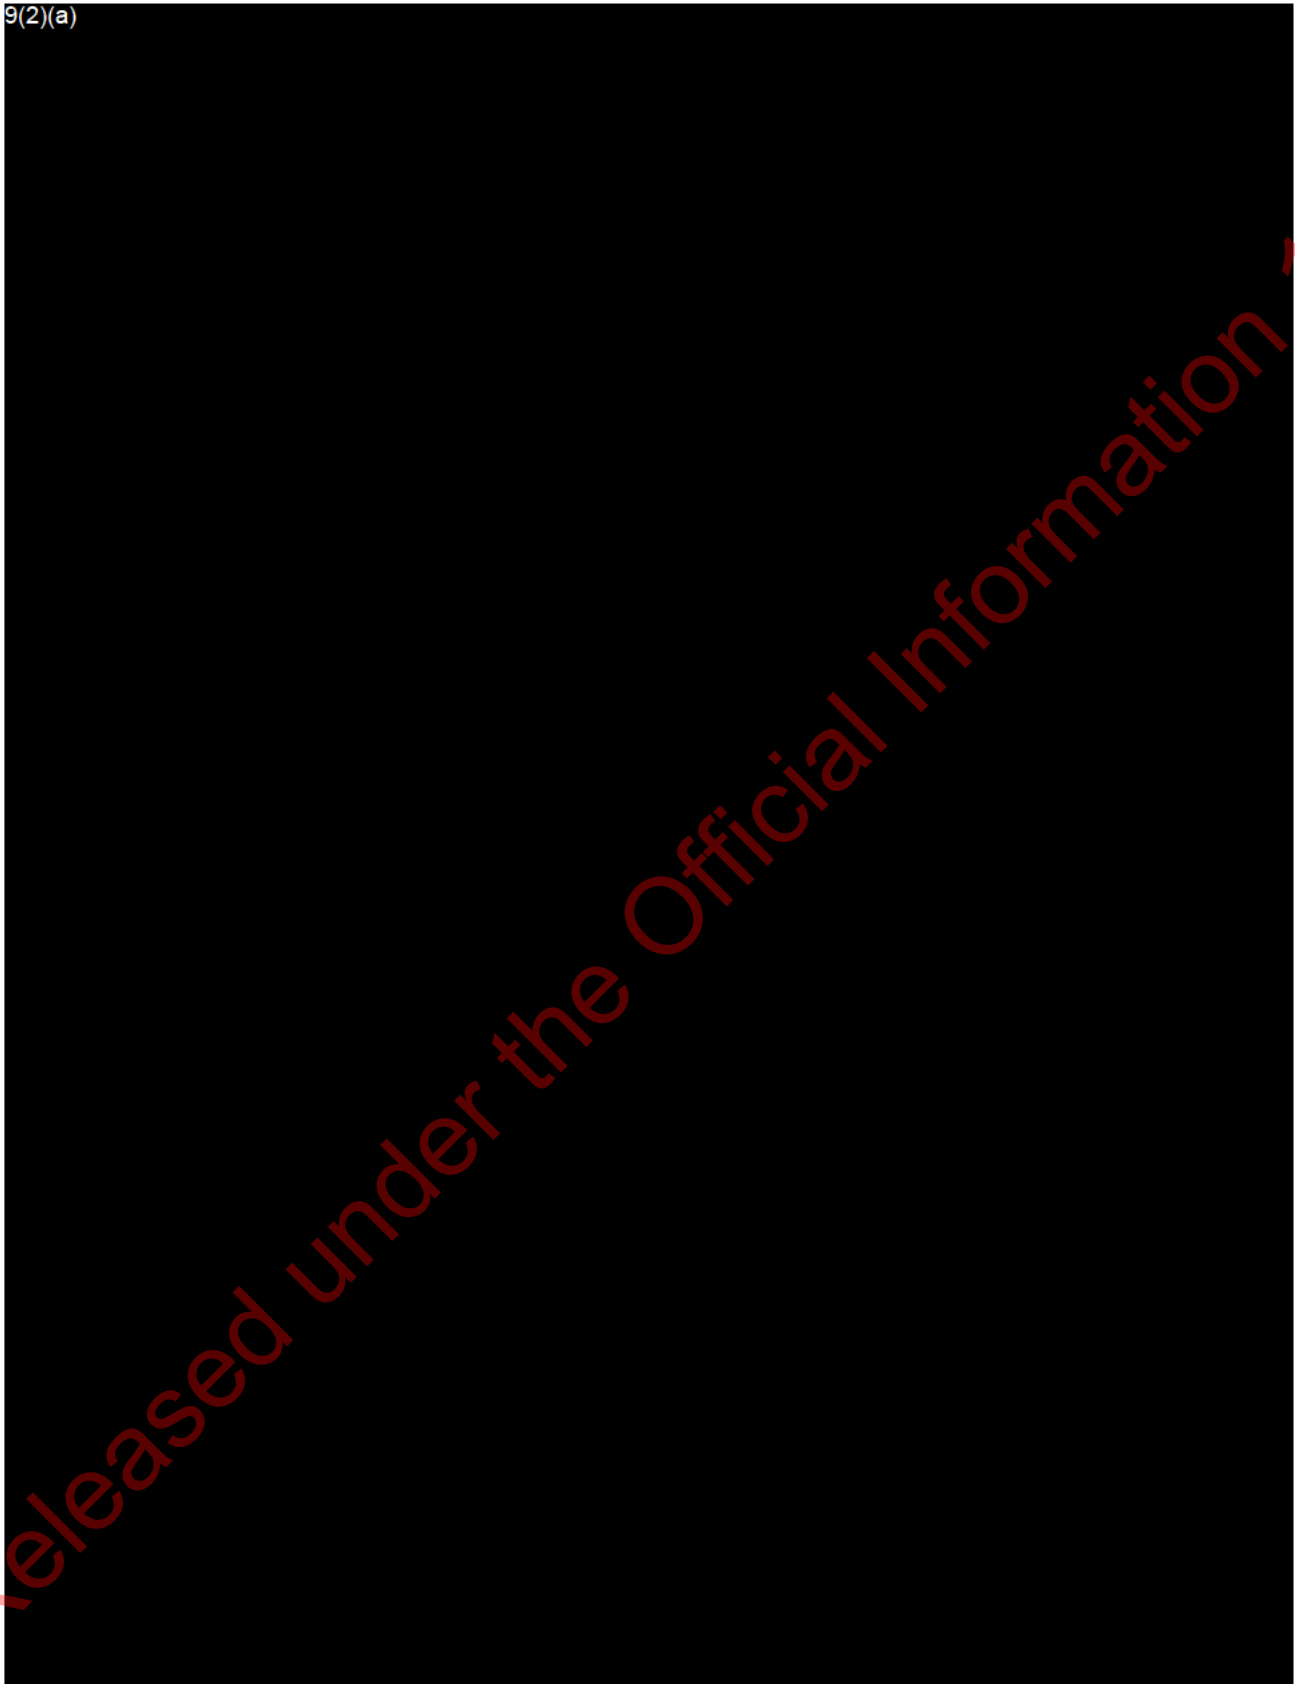

The Programme condition, a special Condition of the ESO imposed by the Parole Board, states that the individual is to:

“For up to 10 hours per week, to engage in a reintegration programme provided by an approved provider to the satisfaction of a Probation Officer”

Appendix Two: Two case studies of ESO offenders impacted by the High Court Judgment

9(2)(a)

Released under the Official Information 1982